You Rock!

Support from you, our members, reached a record high in 2021. Your membership donations were several thousand dollars more last year than in any other year to date. As a result, we are compiling and prioritizing a list of improvement projects for 2022 and will keep you posted. As always, we're interested in your ideas and feedback. Contact us anytime. We're looking forward to a fun and productive year and encourage you to get involved now. Thank you!

Salt Springs in February

Last month's photographs featured lots of white—snow everywhere! It's relatively absent at the moment, and note that the water is flowing well through the creek channels. No flooding occurred during the recent warmup. Thank you, Nicole Risalek, for these images.

Oh! The Many Feet We Meet! Sunday, March 6, 1 p.m.

Kelly Finan will lead a walk to find and follow tracks in the snow (or mud!) and to look for other signs of their activities as well.

Dress for the weather and for walking in snowy and muddy conditions. Fee: $5; members and kids, free.

Get Your Green On! Sunday, March 13, 1 p.m. There are lots of plants that live and stay green during the winter. Learn about mosses, ferns, and lichens on a walk through the forest to see how many we can find. Fee: $5; members and kids, free.

Tree Pruning Class Saturday, March 19, 10 am

Retired forester Jim Kessler will discuss and demonstrate the why, where, how, what, and when to cut.

He'll focus on several species of trees. Bring your questions, as the discussion is interactive. Fee: $10; members, $5.

Mammals of Northeastern Pennsylvania, March 26, 1 p.m. PA Game Warden Benjamin Rebeck will bring some specimens and lead a discussion about local mammals. This is a great opportunity to become more familiar with the wildlife that share our environment. Meet in the Carriage Barn. Fee: $5; members and kids, free.
